

Relation to class concepts

In the recent lecture named Creativity is Queen When everyone is in a Media Outlet the concept of licensing was discussed. My project will be helping the community being an open-source project to which people can contribute and make changes to. Developing an application to help people live better and healthier is an application where the society combines with technology on an individual level and a community level. Through the planning of the project, we have also been following the idea of Technology always comes last in a project planning. Wherein for our project the initial period was the developing and planning phase. The coding part of the project was only introduced after we have researched and created the required documents.
